Here are some testimonials from those serving in the ministry of ushers at St. Peter's Church, Salisbury:

The great thing about being an usher is that you get to meet so many people – even briefly – and see their smiles.

-Richard Culver

Ernie and I have both been ushering for many years. It is important to us because we feel that the usher is the first person that someone sees when they visit St. Peter's and can often be their first impression. We love greeting people and welcoming them to our church and hopefully making them feel at home. I often try and think how I would want to be greeted if I were visiting a church for the first time. It is also great to see our fellow parishioners when they come to worship.

As a cradle Episcopalian, I have been blessed "to serve" in my church wherever I have been at the time. From acolyte to Senior Warden in four Dioceses and five churches. In Matthew's Gospel we are taught to "ask and it will be given to you." I am grateful for being asked to be a member of St. Peter's ushering corps.
